

*He swings about the forest all day long,
He is the man who can do no wrong.*

Unfortunately Robin Hood can no longer simply swing around Sherwood Forest resplendent in his Lincoln Greens.
The nasty Sheriff of Nottingham, and his crony in crime Igor, keep taking from the poor and giving to the rich.

Robin decides the time has come to put a stop to his evil ways.
But of course Robin needs a cool band of Merry Men to help him out. He is quick to enlist the help of 'not so little' John, then delighted to get the rapping Friar Tuck on board.

At the Sherwood BBQ everyone thinks the plan is a great idea ... except perhaps Maid Marion.
But, bolstered by the support of his Merry Men, Robin heads off to battle the Sheriff.
The foes meet and we are treated to an encounter involving some spectacular sword play involving Igor... and Robin's special button.
Does the Sheriff manage to beat Robin - with the 'help' of Igor? Or does goodness triumph?

Find out in this hilarious, fun filled musical: Robin of Sherwood.

SCRIPT

ACT ONE

Set: Background Slide: Sherwood Forest.

Robin strolls on stage nonchalantly. He stops in his tracks when he spies the audience.

Robin: G'day! I'm Robin Hood. I live here in Sherwood Forest. Presently I'm none too happy with that epitome of terror and treachery, the Sheriff of Nottingham.

(The Sheriff puts his head around the curtain and shakes his fist)

I'm also not that keen on his little friend and crony in crime, Igor.

(Igor's head pops out under the Sheriff. He too shakes his fist. The Sheriff looks down at him, and then pushes him back behind the curtain before disappearing himself.)

They keep taking from the poor and giving it to the rich. Unfortunately for me, and my friends, we are the poor. So I have decided to get together a group of men, not just any men, mind you ... Merry Men! And we're going to give the Sheriff and his men something to think about, I tell you. Yes! You shall hear more of ... Robin Hood and his Merry Men!

Enter Little John. He walks past Robin, who stops him in his tracks.

Robin: Halt there my good man, for I am Robin Hood.

Little John stops.

Robin: And what might be your name, my largely built mountain of a man?

Little John: I am called John Little, Robin.

Robin: (Tickled by John's incongruous surname, he decides to have a little joke at his expense)

John ... Little Robin!?

Robin circles behind Little John and takes him by surprise with each new version of his name.
